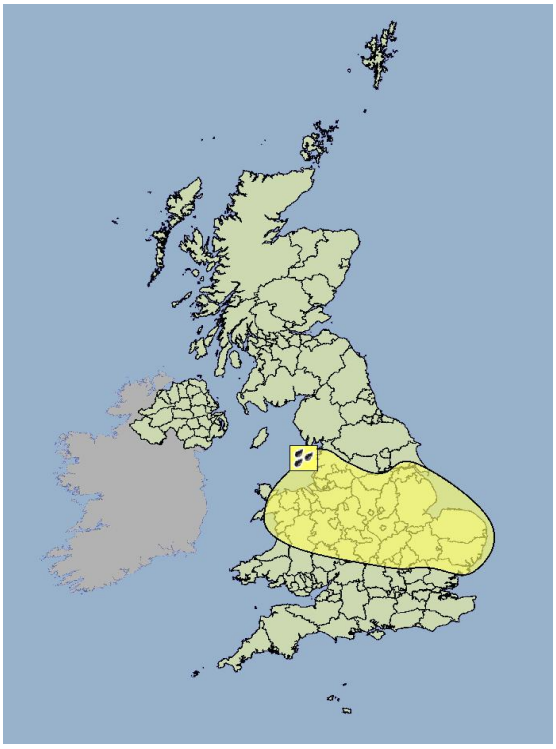
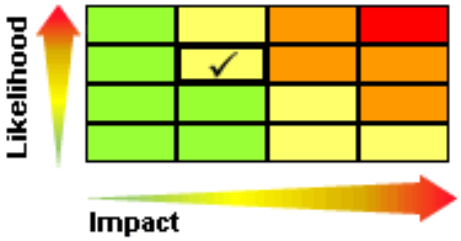
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
As with most recent days, temperatures will rise, triggering some heavy downpours. These may locally produce 15 to 25 mm of rainfall in an hour, bringing the risk of flooding, especially if affecting urban areas.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 10:00 on Tue, 14th Jun 2016 until 22:00 on Tue, 14th Jun 2016

Heavy showers, which continued in some areas overnight, will develop more widely again today. Some will become thundery, leading to slow-moving downpours across the warning area. Some locations will miss these but where they do occur, please be aware of possible localised flooding and disruption to travel. Lightning could be an additional hazard.

This is an update to pull the warning area south by about 50 miles, in line with latest ideas.
